Kind Statement on Hammond Tornado

Washington, DC – U.S. Rep. Ron Kind (D-WI) stopped in Hammond, WI on Monday, June 13 to see how the community was faring in the aftermath of a tornado touch-down over the past weekend and to offer his assistance in disaster relief and reconstruction efforts.

“The tornado that touched down in Hammond this weekend left a significant mark on the community, destroying homes and alarming residents. Thankfully, no lives were lost or injuries suffered, but the damage is still considerable,” said Congressman Kind. “Local emergency personnel and government officials have done a fine job of responding to the situation. My office stands ready to aid them in any way possible in the disaster relief efforts and reconstruction process.”
